Cardinal McIntyre To Dedicate Church

James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, archbishop of Los Angeles, will formally dedicate St. Lawrence Martyr Church on Sunday, May 19, it was announced this week. Dedication ceremonies are scheduled for 11:15 a.m., with the cardinal officiating. Open house at the church for parishioners, neighbors and city officials will follow from 3 until 5 p.m.

St. Lawrence Martyr parish encompasses south Redondo, west Torrance, Palos Verdes and north Rolling Hills. It is named for a third century saint who was almoner for Pope Sixtus II. He was put to death during the persecution of Valerian.

Seats 750

Groundbreaking ceremonies on the church buildings were held May 10, 1956, with officials of the church attending. The church building seats 750 persons, with 1200 families of this area presently worshipping there. A mosaic of St. Lawrence helping the poor, installed on the face of the church, was unveiled May 5, 1957. The plant includes a school of 12 classrooms, a parish hall, and the rectory. Future building plans call for an additional four classrooms and a convent which are scheduled for completion next year.

Prized Items

Among the prized items of St. Lawrence Martyr Church are carved stations of the cross, a specially constructed altar and tabernacle, and a statue of "The Holy Family of the Workshop" which was unveiled about a month ago. The latter was done to order of the church by Fred Humphreys, noted Southern California sculptor, who laid all other work aside to complete this most outstanding statue. Recently completed landscaping was done by Jack Baughman of Begonia Farms, with Dick Gawne in the capacity of landscape architect.

Msgr. Daniel Collins is pastor, assisted by Fr. Charles Ara and on Sundays by Fr. Evangelist O. F. M. Cap.

Sunday Topic To Consider Immortality

"Mortals and Immortals" is the Lesson-Sermon subject in the Christian Science churches on Sunday. The keynote of the sermon is set forth in the Golden Text in the words of the Apostle Paul to the Corinthians, "This corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality" (1 Cor. 15:53).

"My days are like a shadow that declineth; and I am withered like grass." So wrote the Psalmist in words quoted in the Lesson-Sermon. The selection continues, "But thou, O Lord, shalt endure for ever; and thy remembrance unto all generations." (102:11, 12)
